Meeting with Compass Truck Officials

On Friday, September 14, Community Development Director Doug Pollock and I met with the owner of Compass Truck, Roy Dobrasinovic, his associate, Mario, and their attorney, Tim Dwyer. Mr. Dwyer indicated that the petitioner would be seeking rezoning and a special use to allow for a truck sales/leasing/repair facility, and would not be seeking zoning relief for a truck driving school. However, he requested that the truck driving school be allowed to remain in place until May 1, 2013, to allow ample time for his client to relocate the school. He stated that, in the meantime, he would provide a list of items that would help mitigate the impact of the truck facility, including developing a new truck testing route, disengaging the backup beepers while training on the back lot on the property, controlling the dust and, to reduce the impact of the truck training school during evening hours, attempting to do the necessary skill testing on site in late afternoon, as opposed to during the evening hours.

The petitioners also agreed to develop and implement a landscape plan to improve the landscape buffer between their property and the homeowners on 75th Street. Mr. Dwyer has agreed to prepare a letter outlining his proposal in time for the September 24th Village Board meeting.
